Millions of men start in business and don't advertise. They all break up sooner or later. Don't get in that class. Be a live merchant or get off the street.

A fellow who lies to get in office will steal after he gets in. Vote for the man whose opponent lies about him. That's the quickest way to get honest men in office.

Safier Produces Some Very Convincing Statements

Editor Daily Independent:—

Dear Sir:—

With reference to the article of one of our respected citizens who signs himself "A Reader" and charges that catalogue houses have built up a large business by selling good merchandise cheaper than home merchants, I wish to challenge him on his own arguments.

Does that reader realize that the catalogue houses and the large department stores in the cities do not manufacture their own merchandise, but buy it right from the manufacturers of the country. Th manufacturing business of today is done on per centage basis, every good manufacturer figures a certain per cent. on which to run his business and the merchant who buys $500 worth of merchandise practically gets the same price as the one purchasing $5,000 worth, and if necessary I can prove it in black and white.

No, the merchant in a small town operates his business on a small expense. The merchant in a small town doesn't need from $10,000 to $20,000 for his personal living yearly. The merchant in a small town doesn't spend one tenth of the money for miscellaneous and various things that the larger merchant does. We agree that their business is enormous, probably in the millions, but the overhead expenses are so large that they must make a big profit in order to make ends meet.

They are not investing hundreds of thousands of dollars unless it is bringing them a large return. Take the large department stores you enter to buy merchandise. They employ the most clever help that money can produce. This is done to get your money. They don't care if you never come back, because they have such a large field from which to draw, and through their advertising men who get thousands of dollars yearly writing catchy ads, scheming to get you into the store and get your money.

I know of one department store in the city that pays nearly half a million dollars rent annually. Their advertising bills amount to almost half a million. Their help runs between $300,000 and $400,000 yearly. Now take electric lights, a large drawing account for the owner, six per cent. r money invested and the miscellaneous expenses which run into thousands. All told this expense will run into millions, and it all comes out of profits of garments they sell through the various classes of merchandise they handle.

Are these big concerns in business for nothing. Do they work for glory or the accommodation of the people? Do they operate this mammoth business as a charitable institution? No, by all means, no. It is the customer who pays the bills.

I will challenge any person to show me where they can buy the same merchandise we handle for less money. I will admit that metropolitan stores put out baits to catch people, but you go inside of the store, ask for the same article and see how quickly the salesman will try to switch you to something else. These are baits to get you into the stores, and when you get in, they have such clever help that they almost hypnotize you, and ninety-nine times out of one hundred, the salesman sells you what he wants to sell you and not what you want to buy, and you don't know it until you get home, and when you find out in your heart that you didn't get what you wanted, and the article was not what you intended to buy, it is too late.

You are not going back and spend extra car fare to have it exchanged and you keep the goods. On the

Using Poor Methods

Mr. Kilgore, the Democratic nominee for sheriff, has started the ball rolling in his campaign. His tactics to get into office will consist mostly of villifying and maligning his opponent, John E. Shields. He has started in to circularize Shields and to bring out and refresh and embelish the famous Shields case. He clothes the records in his own personal appeal.

There is nothing new in his circular except the fact that he wants to defeat Shields for the office and he is willing to go the limit in villifying. What Shields says will be purely a matter of self defense, and if there are any old skeletons hidden anywhere in Kilgore's career, of course they will come to the surface. Mr. Kilgore has challenged Shields to such a combat.

Such campaign tactics are to be deplored. They do no good. The worst has been said about Shields. He has nothing in his record to conceal. Every man who voted for Shields at the primaries, and every one who will vote for him at the general election knows that he was tried, convicted and sentenced, and that he was pardoned and restored to citizenship and that he won the nomination with a great lead over his oppoents, all of whom were as capable, as clean and as honest as Mr. Kilgore. They voted for Shields because they believed he was unjustly prosecuted and that he is entitled to a vindication. Twice since those famous cases has he gone back to the people for vindication and both times they have acted in his favor.

No man in the political history of Westmoreland county has been subjected to more insults, more persecution and more vile slander than Shields. and it is the conduct of his fellowman toward him that has given Shields the place in politics and in the hearts of the great body of people that he holds. It is the malicious intent of men toward him that has so aroused the public on his behalf.

Mr. Kilgore cannot defeat Shields. He cannot injure his character nor his standing. He injures only himself when he resorts to the villifying circular to boost himself in office. He might as well save his postage.

Guests Of The Borough

Harry Dalton of Philadelphia, visited his brother, William Dalton, who resides in the alley between Fifth and Sixth streets yesterday and so impresed him with the pleasures of traveling over the country, that William decided to break up housekeeping and take to the road First they purchased a quart of whiskey and started to work. Taking the bed tick and clothes in the alley they started a bon fire and then breaking up the dishes. The police happened on the scene at this time and both men faced Burgess Dunlap this morning. They were unable to pay a fine of $1.00 and costs and will spend two days as the guest of the borough.

Edward Conroy of Pittsburgh, stopped off here enroute to visit a brother in Charleroi. He was pickled and the police picked him up. He promised to leave town and was discharged.

A cow belonging to Mike Voicen decided to investigate the wonders of the city last evening and finally landed in the borough stable. The owner was notified and promised to pay $3.00 Saturday if he could take his four legged animal back home.

Alleys Now Ready

The improvements at the Colonial Palace bowling alleys have been completed, and the patrons are congratulating the management on the excellent condition of the bowling alleys. Expert workmen were employed in planning and schlacing the alleys and they are pronounced the best in the city. The weekly bowling game between the Independents and the Merchants took place last evening on the alleys with the Merchants winning out by 8 pins. Good scores were made and much interest manifested in the contest.

Local Lads Get In Wrong At Fayette City Recently

Two boys, apparently not over 18 or 19 years of age were taken into custody by Officer Whiteman of Fayette City Friday night at 10 o'clock, and locked up over night. The young men gave Monessen as their home and one of them stated that he was in the employ of P. H. Butler, grocer, in this city. They both declined to give their names.

While coming in town from Rehobeth meeting Friday night with a truck load of passengers, Thomas McCrory, the driver, noticed the men in a buggy along the Fairhope pike and thought they acted as though they were intoxicated and just as the truck passed the buggy, a couple of shots were fired.

Arriving in Fayette City, McCrory reported the case to Policeman Whitman, who jumped into an auto and was taken to the scene. One of the men by this time was lying in the gutter alongside the road and the other was sitting in the buggy and dead to the world. The two men and the rig were brought to town. The men were locked up and the horse stabled. The animal showed signs of having had a hard trip of it.

It appears that the two young men started out after working hours to have a joy ride and appropriated Butler's horse and buggy. The Monessen police were communicated with and Sunday morning, Butler and the mother of one of the boys accompanied by an officer went to Fayette City. The woman begged for the release of her son which Burgess Howes granted, Butler was given his rig after settling with the liveryman, and the other young man was released with the admonition to go and sin no more.

Sterlings Win Game

The Monessen Sterlings traveled to Charleroi Saturday and administered a defeat to the fast Shamrocks of that place, the score being 6 to 3. The score would have been larger but for the one sided deal given the Sterlings by the officials, they being penalized many times when there was nothing to be penalized for, while Charleroi was not given a setback. The individual stars for Monessen were: Capt. Lear, O'Rourke, Hannigan, King and Mullin, these men being the most consistent gainers, while Mangan, Monach and Hermann played well for Charleroi. The Sterlings are dated to meet the Woodward A. C. of Charleroi next Saturday.

The Merchants Reply

The contention now going on in this paper regarding a man's right to purchase his supplies where he pleases, is one that covers a wide scope, and arguments can be introduced from many sides. We have today a communication from Jos. Safier of Safier's Department store, in which Mr. Safier states the side of the local merchant. Yesterday we had a challenge from E. M. Moyer, the jeweler, wherein he agrees to duplicate any article in price and quality offered by any foreign merchandising firm.

In his characteristic manner, Mr. Moyer simply invites any person to bring their catalogue to his store and he will make good. What could be fairer? What could be more convincing? Where is there a man who dare say that he purchases jewelry out of town in order to save money? He must first give Mr. Moyer a chance.

In the outstart we admit that a man has a legal right to buy where he pleases. He has a constitutionl right to do as he pleases in everything so long as he does not infringe upon the law. He can do many things that are indiscreet. He can even injure his neighbor if he cares to so long as he is careful enough to keep his neighbor from taking his grievance before the courts. He can just keep within the legal bounds and get away with it.

The same is true with regard to buying his goods. He doesn't violate any law when he buys from a catalogue house. He doesn't transgress upon any of his neighbors. He is within the law and he cannot be reached if he chooses to be stubborn about it But he does starve his community. He empoverishes its institutions and makes it hard for business men to get along. He deprives his schools and his churches of financial assistance they need and he makes it an impossibility for the merchant to establish a business house creditable to the community within its selling distance.

Mr. Safier in his lengthy communication on another page, goes into detail and shows how it is possible for the local merchant to sell cheaper than the metropolitan house. He can and does do it on a matter of expense in handling his goods, he does it in an item of rent and over head expenses, and he can purchase his merchandise just as cheap, for the big house does business on the same margin to every person,

In making this answer to the communication of "A Reader," the local merchants have placed themselves in a position where it is simply up to the other fellow. Those who have been trading away from Monessen under the pretext of buying cheaper, must now give the local dealer a chance. It is only fair to give a man a chance to make good. We believe with the merchant that the man who said that mail order houses have built up an immense business by giving honest merchandise at a lower price than the home merchant, doesn't know what he is talking about. He hasn't tried all lines

The mail order houses flim flam more people than any other institution Some people are not wise enough to know it and others don't stop to investigate. Some send their money out of town because they don't care for the town. They work in the town, worship in it, have the town's tax payers furnish free text books for their children who attend the free schools, but aside from that, they don't care for the town.

"People have a right to deal where they please" they say and we say so too, but have people any civic pride? What do we do for a town's institutions besides rob them for the education of our children and the advancement of personal self. Of course a man has a right to deal where he pleases. He also has a right to work where he pleases so long as his services are satisfactory.

A man can borrow his neighbor's lawn mower all his life. There is no law to prevent it. He can keep from buying one. He can put his money in the bank at interest and mow as long as he pleases with his neighbor's machine. Simply robbing his neighbor, that's all.

In that case your neighbor doesn't respect you. He calls you a leech. Pumping the last drop of blood you can pump. The last pound of flesh.

And that's what some people are doing in trading away from Monessen. They work here, send their children to the public schools, many of them pay little or no taxes, bleed the town and then hold to their constitutional right to trade where they please Is it right? We trust that more merchants of the town will take part in his discussion and that we will be able to convince those who are trading with mail order houses or running to the city every few days that they are robbing this town and that the rewards of their actions will redound a hundred fold and that in the end they will be the losers.

Lost Votes.

A parliamentary candidate lost quite a number of votes by making a generous promise to his own wife He promised his better half that if he were successful at the poll he would buy her a new sealskin coat and hat to match His wife was so pleased with this kindly offer that she at once went and told all her lady friends about it. Every lady to whom this piece of news was imparted, of course, said to the candidate's wife at once "Oh, how very nice, dear!" but equally, of course, immediately went off home to her husband and said "Take care you don't vote for Mr. A, dear Fancy that stuck up Mrs. A. in a new sealskin while my old one is so shabby!"—London Express.

Submarine Badge.

As a crown is the badge of kings, as three balls are the badge of pawnbrokers, so the badge of a submarine officer is a handful of cotton waste. When the half dozen officers of a modern submarine, clad in their black leather waterproof suits, come aboard a sailor stands on the tiny gangway to receive them, and to each he hands his waste rolled in a neat ball. The reason is that the steel doors and steel walls of a submarine sweat oil eternally. The steel seats sweat oil. The submarine officer before opening a door or before sitting down wipes the oil from the knob or from the seat with an unconscious gesture like that of pulling up the trousers to keep them from bagging. Jovial young submarine lieutenants say that even the dishes sweat oil on a submarine trip. They say that before filling their plates with meat they mechanically wipe the oil from them with their balls of oily waste.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

Mary Wheeler of 706 Green street, Harrisburg, Pa., for a long time was a victim of stomach disorders. She tried many treatments and found nothing that could help her.

At last she came upon Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and quickly found herself on the way to health. She wrote:

I had awful distress after eating and suffered from bloating and gas, but now I feel fine, am gaining in weight and can eat anything."

Mayr's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the heart. THE HOME PARTY WINS NEW JERSEY Suffrage Defeated in Nearly Every County in State Through Efforts of Women Organized Against Votes.

New Jersey, the first of the four states to vote on suffrage this fall, gave nearly 60,000 majority against the votes-for-women movement—the agitation to eliminate sex in politics and legislation. Sex will not be eliminated. Women will be permitted to continue their own necessary and important work in the world, instead of being drafted into politics, made to serve on juries, and forced to duplicate the work of men.

This victory for womanhood is due in a great measure to the efforts of the organized anti-suffragists, who have waged an educational campaign throughout the state for two years. Among the women prominent in the opposition to suffrage in New Jersey were Mrs. Thomas J. Preston (former Mrs. Grover Cleveland), Mrs. E. Yarde Breese, Miss Clara Vezin, Mrs. George V. Hobart, Mrs. John R. Emery, Miss Anne MacIlvaine, Mrs. William Libbey, Mrs. Karl G. Roebling, Mrs. William S. Stryker, Mrs. Sherman B. Joost, Mrs. Henry M. Darcy Mrs. Theodore C. Woodbury, Mrs. Robert C. Maxwell, Mrs. Frank M. Stillman, Mrs. Horace F. Nixon, Mrs. L. S. Reed, Miss Helen A. Pierce and Mrs. C. Howard McFadden. The New Jersey Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage, consisting of 25,000 women, organized under thirty-four branches, was able to convince the men of the state that the majority of the women do not desire the ballot. Articles, posters and advertisements requesting the voters to "ask the women," were widely circulated. The suffragists themselves have acknowledged that it was the so-called "indifference" upon the part of the women that defeated votes in New Jersey. This indifference evidently urged many a husband, father and brother to vote "No" as the amendment was defeated by the largest majority given in New Jersey for years.

PROTECT PENNSYLVANIA'S WOMEN

The only danger in the great victory for the anti-suffragists in New Jersey is that over-confidence may be developed among Pennsylvania voters to such an extent that many may fail to mark their ballots on the first amendment. The radicals are all ready to vote for woman suffrage. The Socialists are making it their issue at this election, and thousands of men who have not studied the question deeply will be led to vote in favor of enfranchisement by a sense of mistaken chivalry. To offset both the radical vote and the uninformed vote, it will be necessary for every man who believes in maintaining the home as the unit of society, and in keeping women free from jury duty and partisan politics, to express this determination at the polls. If this is done, Pennsylvania women on November third will be saved from suffrage and its attendant evils by a majority which will leave no question as to the sentiment of the people.

The New York Journal, which believes it is useless to argue with women, has blazed a whole page of preachments on the text: "The Ballot Will Make You Better Looking."

If that is why suffragists are seeking the vote, all is forgiven.

ANTI-SUFFRAGISTS FOR ALL TRUE PROGRESS

It is strange but true that every reform accomplished by women has been achieved without the vote, by their non-partisan power. Even men realize that in order to gain popular support for a reform measure it is necessary to take it out of politics. The tariff, the pure food laws, the child labor laws, the unemployment acts, and all the humanitarian measures of vital concern to our people are given more confidence when proposed by those who are not associated with a faction or party. When no one can accuse a woman of being allied with a particular group, or working to satisfy personal ambition or to gain public office for herself, the measures she advocates are judged on their merits by men of all parties. No matter whether Republican or Democratic administration is in power, she gets good laws in the name of womanhood or childhood. With the ballot, all her measures are taken into politics and made partisan.

This explains the failure of women to accomplish anything of note in the states where women vote. Anti-suffragists believe in preserving the non-partisan power of women, of developing and extending it until all women are united for the common good, instead of dividing women into parties where they will lose all their influence, and may even be outvoted by interests inimical to the public welfare, which are able to persuade a certain number of women to vote wrongly while the indifferent woman stays home.

A FEW COMPARISONS

In WYOMING, where women have voted for forty-six years, there is no age limit on child labor, the provision covering child labor simply stating that "no child under fourteen may be employed over nine hours a day." In Wyoming, children of any age may be employed fifty-four hours a week—after forty-six years of woman's suffrage.

In CALIFORNIA, where women have voted for nearly four years, an act was passed in 1915 allowing children of ten to engage in street trades. In Colorado and Washington, too, suffrage states, boys and girls of tender age may shine shoes at the gutter's edge!

Anti-Suffrage leaders expect to win Pennsylvania by 250,000.

In PENNSYLVANIA, no child under fourteen may be employed except in selling newspapers, where the age limit is twelve, and $1,000,000 was appropriated by the legislature to give all children between fourteen and sixteen employed eight hours a week of school. In Pennsylvania, man-made laws give children over fourteen but forty-three hours labor and eight hours study a week.

PENNSYLVANIA and NEW JERSEY, male suffrage states, pay a workman's widow a maximum of $2 a week more than Colorado, where women have voted for 23 years; and in addition, grant as high as $4000 benefits, instead of $2500, which is the most the Colorado widow can recover for the death of her husband. New Jersey had workmen's compensation four years before Colorado, and has a better law today.

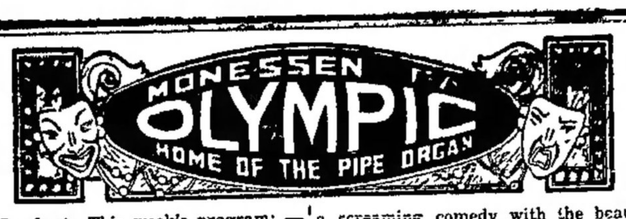
NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®



In short—This week's program: —

TUESDAY—The first Pathe feature in five reels "The Galloper," featuring Clifton Crawford, supported by Melville Stewart, Fania Marinoff and Rlye Alexander. Everyone of our patrons know what pictures the Pathe company produced. We had Pathe's "Exploits of Elaine," "New Exploits of Elaine" and "The Romance of Elaine" We had the 12 wonderful vital questions of mankind, "Who Pays?" and there was not even one subject on the entire Pathe program which was not fine. So with a full confidence we come right out and advise all our patrons to attend very close these Pathe productions. They are indeed everyone of them very instructive and pleasing. The next picture on Tuesday is "The Kiss of Dishonor," a Universal drama with Jane Nova and Ronald Bradburry. Also "Bashful Glen," a comedy.

WEDNESDAY— Another wonderful day, and when we say wonderful, we mean what we say, and we understand the meaning of the word wonderful thoroughly. We have at last after 36 weeks of wandering adventures, expenditures, expeditions and thrilling acts of the beautiful Pearl White, her triumph and the disclosure of the mysterious Mr. X. The last of this episode discloses a surprise, better relished on the screen. Suffice to say that it is a fitting end to one of the biggest and best serial pictures that ever delighted a fastidious public, and on the same day starts the first episode of the world's famous Pathe picture, by Balboa company, the same people who made the serial "Who Pays." The name of our next serial is "Neal of the Navy." It is an innovation in serial pictures, featuring Lillian Loraine, beautiful and in the latest style of fashion, with William Courtlech, Jr., and a wonderful cast. It isn't possible to raise your hopes too high for this serial to satisfy you. On the same day, Wednesday, we have two more of the famous Universal comedies a Joker, "No Babies Allowed" with Max Asher and Gale Henry, and one of L KO's comedies, "Under New Management" a screaming comedy with the beauties, Gertrude Selby and Alice Howell, in two reels.

Thursday and Friday are so solid, so pure, that we can not say any too much about these days.

THURSDAY—Our great Broadway Universal feature "Judge Not," a great drama of western life, written by Peter B Kyne, filmed in six great acts, featuring the Broadway Universal favorite, a beautiful and emotional actress, JULIA DEAN. The same day we have also two Universal comedies of high merit.

FRIDAY—Another wonderful day and guaranteed in every point Popular Plays and Players present for the Metro company and they present for us, the virile American dramatic star, Emmet Corrigan in the story of a magnificient sacrifice "Greater Love Hath No Man" from the book by Frank L Packard, in five acts. On the same day "A Kentucky Idyll," in two reels, featuring J. Warren Kerrigan, the famous actor: also one of Nestor's comedies "And the Best Man Won," featuring Billie Rhodes and Neil Burns.

SATURDAY—As usual the 23rd episode of "The Diamond From the Sky," full of thrills and adventures and wandering actions and the hope of winning the $10,000 offer. The next is "The Yellow Star," one of Bison's Universal features, the kind we have very Saturday, in three reels. Animated Weekly with the latest news and one very good comedy.

Now sit down, look over, think a little and certainly you will admit that the Olympic theatre in the small village, Monessen, in comparison with Pittsburgh, is one of the most complete theatres in America, comparing it only with Pittsburgh theatres, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Chicago theatres, etc. And this is not boosting, bluffing or notorious advertising It is the plain unvarnished truth, and nothing but the truth. Here it is and it can stand investigation and comparison at any time from any one if he is the queerest person living upon the face of the earth.—Olympic.

PENN
FATHER PENN— THE BORDER IS A MIGHTY GOOD HOUSE CLEANER. (SIGNED) CHICAGO
WOMAN VOTER

Suffrage Will Reduce Taxes

In a desperate effort to undermine the rapidly growing strength of woman suffrage, the opponents of suffrage are displaying a willingness to go to any lengths. Typical of their efforts is the false statement that one result of woman suffrage will be an increase of taxes. The exact opposite is the truth. The following tax figures based upon official reports from representative suffrage and non suffrage States, prove that in the States where women vote, the tax rate is actually lower:

NON-SUFFRAGE STATES				SUFFRAGE STATES
Wisconsin	(per $1,000)		$11 50	Washington	(per $1,000)		$5 07
New Hampshire	"	"	16 00	Colorado	"	"	4 12
Vermont	"	"	18 83	Utah	"	"	1 00
Missouri	"	"	19 00	Wyoming	"	"	2 53
Maine	"	"	23 50	Kansas	"	"	1 20
Minnesota	"	"	27 74	Oregon	"	"	1 20
				California	"	"	39

The result of woman suffrage is to even wipe out the poll tax which men are required to pay in some States before they can vote In none of the States where women vote is a poll tax a necessary qualification for voting California's $2 poll tax was one of the first things swept off the statute books as a result of admitting women to the electorate.

other hand when you come into our store or any other store in your home town, it is generally the merchant himself who waits on you. He sees that the customer gets the article that is becoming and that is wanted. He must be careful that the article sold is first quality. He must be careful that the alteration is perfect. He must be careful when you leave the store that you are perfectly satisfied, both for yourself and his sake, because the local merchant hasn't got thousands of people to draw from and he depends on each customer alone for the future stability of his business. If the local merchant loses one customer, it means five, because one tells another, and if he loses your trade, he has no one with which to replace you, because he is at a disadvantage living in a small community. Therefore by buying from your local merchant, you not only do justice to the merchant, but you do justice to yourself and your hard earned money.

I for one challenge any person to show me where they can buy the same class of merchandise we handle for less money; besides the service that is accorded customers, and the adjusting of complaints.

In conclusion I assure the respected citizens of Monessen that by buying at home, you not only save money which you positively do, but you help the merchants to help the town by contributing more money to the welfare of the community for the benefit of the general public. The more business the local merchant does, the more he can assist in building up the community and making Monessen a better place in which to live.

The home merchant wants only an honest, respectable profit and a humble living. He does not aspire to international travel for pleasure spending lavishly in clubs and public places. I for one work from morning until night, always figuring how to buy the best merchandise that money can buy and sell at the lowest figures and I believe every local merchant does likewise.

Don't you believe that every word of the above statement is true? Of course you do. Then be honest with yourself, honest with your town, honest with your neighbor and honest with your home merchant and by a united effort we can soon build up a city commercially as well as industrially of which we can all be justly proud.

Yours very respectfully,
Jos. Safier.

BETTER BABIES

The crusade for better babies has spread from coast to coast and taken firm hold of American mothers. Few women realize how much the ill health of the mother influences the unborn child, both physically and mentally. Women who suffer from mysterious pains, backache, nervousness, mental depression, headaches, etc, should rely up on Lydia E Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, which for nearly forty years has been the standard remedy for these ailments.

The Mysterious Unknown ..... David Burton

The story deals with a divorced war correspondent who divides his time between dodging alimony-hunting divorced wives and various creditors. As a means of relief from his financial troubles, he makes love to a brewer's widow, proposes and is accepted. War breaks out between Turkey and Greece and he seizes the opportunity to dodge his trouble and a fiancee who does not appeal to him, to go out as a war correspondent to Greece. It happens that a young American millionaire at the same time is sailing for Africa to hunt big game. On the same steamer are two charming girls who are going to the front as Red Cross nurses. One of them turns out to be the war correspondent's last wife, the millionaire immediately falls in love with the other. Arriving in Greece the war correspondent finds dodging his former wife too strenuous and resigns his position. The millionaire offers to take his name and act as correspondent for him. From then on there are all sorts of comical misunderstandings and situations. Scene after scene is a riot of laughter up to the very end where misunderstandings are cleared up, the millionaire is accepted by the Red Cross Nurse and the war correspondent reunited with his former wife. Despite the fact that "The Galloper" is primarily a comic, there is plenty of drama and much thrill to it. It is the first Gold Rooster Play and sets a high standard for those to follow. 1t

WARNING TO BOYS

Homer Miller, Albert Miller, Harry Bradley, Albert Carroll and Frank Kimberly, the five West Newton boys who assaulted a policeman must serve four months in the Allegheny county work house. In face of the appeals for clemency, Judge Doty sentenced the boys alike to hard labor.

This act of ore Saturday night in a drunken brawl will be a matter of regret throughout the life of these young men. It is said all are from good homes, but the desire to participate in acts of rowdyism in defiance of law and order has brought them face to face with a condition with which they will have to combat throughout their entire life.

Sometimes on the streets of Monessen we see young men congregated under the influence of liquor insulting people as they pass just as the West Newton boys were doing when the officer told them to move on and they refused. The above example can well be exemplified by young men who call drinking and rioting a good time.
